

REDEFINE SUCCESS: ENTREPRENEURSHIP WITH PURPOSE

Join our Entrepreneurship Class focused on Worker Cooperatives & the Solidarity Economy

Are you tired of the "every person for themselves" business model? Ready to learn how to build enterprises that benefit everyone involved? Our Entrepreneurship class introduces you to the growing world of worker cooperatives and solidarity economics—where profit meets purpose, and business success is measured by community impact.

Business Skills with a Difference

Learn entrepreneurship fundamentals while exploring democratic business models

Real-World Impact

Discover how to create enterprises that address community needs and social challenges

Collaborative Leadership

Develop skills in consensus building, shared decision-making, and collective problem-solving

Economic Democracy

Understand how to build businesses where workers have a voice and share in the profits

Global Movement

Connect with a worldwide network of solidarity economy initiatives changing how business works

Worker Cooperatives

Worker cooperatives are businesses owned and democratically controlled by their employees. Unlike traditional companies where decisions flow from the top down, worker co-ops operate on the principle of "one worker, one vote."

Solidarity Economy

The solidarity economy represents a global movement to create an economic system based on cooperation, sustainability, and meeting human needs—not just maximizing profit.
